Highland Students Reach Long-Awaited Destination

On Thursday evening, June 1, at 11 o'clock, a long awaited adventure began for 55 fifth-grade youngsters from Highland School, Seaside. They were on their way to Disneyland.

The idea had begun last fall during a class discussion with their teachers, Mrs. Benita Turner and Mrs. Natalie Stewart, about where the students would be going on their annual study trip. When the teachers asked for suggestions from the class, one student blurted out, "Disneyland!" When the expenses of such a trip were explored by a committee, the students were still undaunted. They were certain that they could raise the money easily. The teachers who had had this same group last year in fourth grade secretly agreed that these students probably could. Through holding candy sales, car washes, cake walks, movies, by selling name tags and doing odd jobs, all done after school hours, their bank account began to grow.

Since there could be no sacrifice to the instructional program, Highland School P. T. A. President Mrs. Erna Phillips was always on hand to take care of the time consuming details. Highland school parents, Mr. H. Venoy, Mr. Edwalker James, and Mr. U. Johnson and Principal James Mitchell helped with the few jobs that were just too big for ten-year-olds to do.

Mathematics became more meaningful and map studies were essential. The students became very aware of profit and loss, advertising gimmicks, and the proper way to present themselves to the public. Possibly the most important learning came, however, when the youngsters discovered that it takes constant effort to pull a group together and keep it functioning harmoniously in order to reach a common goal.

Accompanying the students were Mrs. William L. Stewart and Mrs. Perry Turner, Miss Casanova, Miss Mayo, Mrs. L. Slater, Mr. T. Panganiban, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Collin, teachers, as well as staff members Mr.s. David Floyd, Mr. Ralph Rolling, and Mrs. James. Parents of the students included Mrs. U. Metters, Mrs. J. Myricks, and Mrs. C. Shaffer. Junior aides were Peggy Zehna, Laurie Cook, Kay and Perry Phillips, Darlene Dixon, Julie Schmind and Alison and Geoffrey Stewart.

Mrs. Knight was appointed by the State Board of Education and notified of the Board's action by Wilson Riles, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

She has been active in numerous local organizations and has served on several state-level bodies. In 1967, she headed the Governor's Advisory Committee on Preschool Education. In 1970-71, Mrs. Knight was vice chairman of the California State Compensatory Education Commission. Since 1967, she has served as vice president of the Association of California Administrators in Compensatory Education.

Social Club Wants Jobs For Youths

The Retired Men's Social Club is now soliciting teenagers for work in the Teenage Summer Employment Program sponsored by the Club.

All teenagers between the ages of 12-18 are encouraged to contact the secretary of the program at 1105 Olympia Avenue, Seaside, to fill out applications for work. The club is also soliciting jobs for the Teen employment program. All residents, social, civic and businesses desiring teenagers to mower lawns, wash windows, paint fences, wash cars and do general clean up around the home or area, are encouraged to contact the club. (The telephone number may be obtained through information).

According to James C. Stevenson, Sr., club president, the club hopes to provide jobs for at least 100 youngsters during the three month summer period. This can easily be done if all interesting persons will employ one teenager to assist him around the house. While boys will do outside work, the young girls are hoping to get at hand at learning the routine of keeping house.

The club hopes that persons hiring teenagers 16 years and over, where the job performed meets minmum wage requirement under law, that the minimum wage of $1.65 will be paid. For those teenagers under 16, the amound paid will be left to the discretion of the employer and the employee. It is hoped that most of the jobs could be performed under the supervision of the person employing the teenager.

The organization feel that if these young people can find some type of employment, full or part time, ti will eliminate many of the social problems that generally develop when there are hundreds of youngsters roaming around the community with nothing to do.

Mr. Stevenson feels that while businesses and other firms can hire a few youngsters, the entire community can help by employing other youngsters to work for a few hours each week. It is important that all of us become aware of the problems created when individuals cannot find decent and adequate employment. If we could start giving our youngsters good work habits and instill the "importance of work responsibility," many of the problems would be eliminated in adulthood.

Those persons, businesses, social and civic organizations that do not have a need for someone to work, are encouraged to make a donation to the club.

Donations may be mailed to: The Retired Men's Social Club, Attention, Teen Employment Program, 1105 Olympia Ave., Seaside.

All donations will be appreciated.

Turn your sick soul inside out - so that the worldcan watch you die. "Little Esther"

"Where most people my age are going, I have been there and back. I've seen Fire and I've seen Rain; I've seen sunny days that I thought would never end. I've seen lonely times when I could not find a friend."........But through it all, I knew there would be a time before I said "Good-Do" that I would be at my lowest level of joy. Like I always say, we just have to roll with the punches. The world keeps spinning, and life must go on. Things happen in your life sometimes and there is absolutely nothing you can do about it. Nor is there any way you can help. And when these things happen to someone you love very deeply, it is revealed to you how insignificant sentiments are.

My sentiments are like an ocean with its ebb and flow. My soul is like a bird with broken wings; who suffers immensely when she sees the swarm of other birds hovering in the sky, for she finds herself unable to do likewise. But like all other birds, she enjoys the silence of Night, the coming of Dawn, the rays of Sun, and the beauty of the Valley. That in itself should be sufficient, but it isn't. For once you have tasted the fruit, the mouth will forever water when the eyes perceive it.

There is no love deeper, purer, or more sincere than the love between parent and child.

Bake Sale Pays Off

Bake sales can be big business a group of Fitch Junior High School students has discovered.

The 125-member Kodiak Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society at that school wanted to take a trip to the Saddle Mountain Ranch and decided to finance the journey with a bake sale at Fort Old's main PX.

Helen Holmes, former president of the Chapter, reported that the one-day sale produced a net profit of $140.

Bill Would Extend Food Stamp Privileges Of Senior Citizens

Seaside Alan Cranston and George McGovern introduced legislation recently to permit elderly persons to use their food stamps to buy meals in community settings, including restaurants with special service for senior citizens.

Also included would be senior citizens centers, school cafeterias and apartment buildings with dining facilities which participate in the Nutritional Program for the Elderly.

"The bill would provide the elderly with the opportunity to combine a well-balanced diet with the companionship and society which they are all too often denied," the Seantors said. "The elderly poor who participate in the food stamp program now are restricted to taking their meals in what is often the unwanted loneliness of their own residences."

"This bill will open up new vistas of companionship for them and will provide them the opportunity for new social contacts. It will add a vital element of human warmth and dignity to the later years of those who have given so much to this nation."

The Senators said they hoped their bill, which would amend the Food Stamp Act of 1964, would improve the diets of the elderly poor "many of whom suffer from malnutrition because they lack the ability--or the interest--to prepare proper meals for themselves."

They noted that some 4.7 million elderly Americans now live in poverty--one out of every four people over 65. They also pointed out that both poverty and chronic illnesses hit the elderly at double the rate of younger people.

The Cranston-McGovern measure would also authorize schools to purchase additional surplus commodity foods for their elderly dining programs.

McGovern is chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs. Cranston is a member.

ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everyone, The primary duties of an Army bandsman are to participate in concert band, marching band and dance and stage band rehearsals, perform in various ensembles and combos. Occasionally he is required to perform some administrative and housekeeping duties which are a necessary part of any organization in which members work and live together. A prospective Army bandsman should be proficient on one or more instruments. All Army bandsmen are provided with professional quality musical equipment. Even reeds, valve oil, repair parts for each instrument, music stands and other accessories are furnished by the Army.

There are more than 40 Army bands in the Continental United States and if the musician enlists for Army Band Unassigned, he may serve initially in one of the bands in the continental United States or in one of the following areas: Alaska, Panama Canal Zone, Germany, Vietnam, Japan, Korea, Okinawa or Hawaii. Enlistment is determined by the availability of a position in a band and for the instrument in which the individual is qualified. When a musician enlists for duty with a specific band, he will be assigned initially to that band in the United States for a minimum of one year, provided his performance of duty continues to be satisfactory. Upon completion of the 1-year tour, continued assignment with the band will depend on satisfactory performance of duty and the needs of the service.

Except for very advanced players, enlistees are given musical training after completion of basic training at a special school of music at Little Creek, Virginia (near Norfolk, Virginia). The school's facilities, faculty and curriculum are comparable to those of our leading civilian schools of music and conservatories. For you musically talented women, there is one Women's Army Corps Band which is located at Ft. McClellan, Alabama. This versatile, 42-piece band has established a reputation as a first-class musical organization and appears frequently on national television programs and participates in Presidential inaugural parades.

Peggy Fleming To Appear In Oakland

Peggy Fleming is a Space Age Cinderella. With one exception -- the crown she wears was not handed to her by a doting and handsome prince. It represents years of hard work, an abundance of talent and the preserverance to make a dream come true.

In essence, the crown is the Gold Medal she won in the 1968 Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France. It was the only Gold Medal won by an American.

For Peggy Fleming, it is the fulfillment of one dream and the beginning of another. Since her victory at Davos, Peggy Fleming has never been defeated in a competition. She is the five-time U.S.A. Ladies Figure Skating Champion and three-time winner of the World's Ladies Championship.

See Peggy Fleming, Snoopy, and all the other Ice Follies stars when the all new, all family show plays at the Oakland Alameda County Coliseum from July 5 through July 9. Opening night, July 5, will benefit the Oakland Easter Seal Society.

June Art Exhibit Announced

In June the Seaside Art Commission presents oils by Gene Elmore and sculpture by Gerard H. Gerstl and Dr. Edwin H. Lombard at the Seaside City Hall. Hours 8 to 5, Monday through Friday.

After Gene Elmore graduated from Bowling Green University at Bowling Green, Ohio, he continued his art studies at the Academy of Advertising Art in San Francisco and the Carmel Art Institute. He taught painting on the Isle of Capri and is widely traveled in Europe, Mexico and Japan. Mr. Elmore has had one-man shows at the Carmel Art Association, where he is a member, in San Francisco, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon and Texas. As a participating artist in group shows his work has been exhibited from Capri, Italy to Maui, Hawaii. He has received many awards. Mr. Elmore now lives in Pacific Grove.

Gerard Gerstl's father was a famous artist in Germany. When Hitler came to power, his family escaped to the United States. He has had eye trouble ever since joining his family in Boston during World War II. Eight years ago while operating a tree surgeon business in the Carmel Valley, he ruptured an eye blood vessel which left him with only partial sight in one eye. Unable to work, he turned to wood carving. His pieces are small, most of them two inches, or less. Sometimes he has a subject in mind, but at other times he lets the grain of the wood gride his work.

Dr. Edwin Lombard became interested in sculpture in 1963 at the age of 52. Essentially self-taught, Dr. Lombrad works in wood and soapstone. He has exhibited his work in central California, Laguna Beach and Monterey. From the beginning in 1963 he has won awards every year with his sculpture. Dr. Lombard is a professor of theatre arts at California State University at Fresno, but plans to retire next year to his home in Carmel and devote more time to sculpture.

Bob Wood Reports

In the wake of a proposed tax shift initiative measure which will be on the November ballot for the vote of the people, rival tax reform bills are now up for consideration in the legislature.

The latest reform program to be unveiled is one by Governor Reagan which will provide $900 million to property tax relief coupled with an increase in the sales tax, bank and corporation taxes, and liquor and cigareete taxes.

The Governor in presenting the program, told the press his proposal will provide substantial, lasting and guaranteed property tax relief, and at the same time insuring equal educational opportunity for every child attending public schools.

In providing the $900 million in property tax relief, the Governor's proposed program will enable the state to achieve the long sought goal of providing 50-50 state-local financing of public schools.

In the meantime, however, Democrats have already approved--at least in the Assembly--a rival $1.5 billion tax shift program with many of the same objectives. Here are some of the differences between the Democratic measure and the Reagan proposal:

Property Tax Exemptions - Reagan would make the exemptions $1,250 and add another $100 a year until 1975. The Democrats would increase the present homeowners exemption to $2,000.

Personal Income Tax - The Democrats plan would raise personal income taxes by $860 million, mostly to be paid by taxpayers in the middle income levels. The Governor's plan does not raise

School Taxes - Reagan would provide $800 million to meet the court's school tax equalization order, and sets down specifics on how the decision should be met. The Democrats set aside $500 million but does not specify how the decision should be met.

Sales Tax - Both plans would increase the sales tax by one percent starting May 1, 1973, raising about $585 million each year.

Property Tax Relief - The tax break for the average homeowner under the Reagan plan would be $156, and under the Democrat plan would be $274.

Renters' Relief - Under the governor's proposal, renters would receive an income tax credit ceiling of $50, while the democratic plan calls for $80 per year.

Business Taxes - Under both proposals, bank and corporations taxes would be increased by 1.4 percent to provide additional state income of $125 million.

Cigarette and liquor - The governor would boost cigarette taxes by five cents a pack and liquor taxes by 50 cents a gallon. The democrat proposal would not increase wither of these taxes.

Actually the Reagan plan would provide $892 million in property tax relief, which is more than $242 million more than that proposed by the democrats, and it would be an across-the-board relief package going to all property owners in the state -- 70 percent of which aren't single-family residents.

Pre -School Classes

Pre-School will be held at the Seaside Youth Center from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. First Session is June 5-30 inclusive. Second session July 5-28 inclusive. Registration fee will be $15 a month. Mrs. Connie Kirwin from Fort Ord will be the instructor.

Seaside Ripples

If the relationship has been without flaw, or moments of betterness, then this love can be compared with the finest of jewel. If misfortune comes to either the parent or the child, words are unnecessary. Each feels as the other feels, but only sentiment can pass between them. Other beauties are invisible. "The eyes which are used to look at the beauty of spring and the awakening of nature, can see nothing but the fury of the tempest and the misery of winter. The ears which formerly heard with delight the song of the waves, can hear only the howling of the wind and the wrath of the sea against the precipice. The soul which had observed happily the tireless vigor of mankind and the glory of the universe, is tortured by the knowledge of disappointment and failure. Nothing is more beautiful than those days of love, and nothing more bitter than these horrible nights of sorrow." There is the law of the stage, (The show must go on), and it also applies to everything in life.

One of my duties is to write a column each week until my boss is back on his feet. I have been doing this for weeks now, and "The Show Must Go On." Therefore I should get down to the business of writing a column and omitting personal sentiments. But before I do that, let me quote our favorite; Gibran: "An old man's tear is more potent than that of a young man because it is the residuum of life in his weakening body. A young man's tear is like a drop of dew on the leaf of a rose, while that of an old man is like a yellow leaf which falls with the wind at the approach of winter."

Last Saturday Night we went to Monterey Peninsula College to hear Julian Bond speak for Senator McGovern. We notices several of our prominent candidates present. Sitting with Mr. Bond was Mrs. Van Hook. Seen in the audience was Mr. Haddad and Mr. Poyner. For those of you who have had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Bond I don't have to say a word. For the unfortunate ones: You missed one heck of a fine speaker. If I were a candidate for office and Julian Bond was in my corner, I would be most happy. He did not miss the truth when he said that Senator McGovern was unable to be there, but "He cared enough to send the very best."

Our Mayor Pro-Tem Councilman Stephen Ross, presented Mr. Bond with the key to the city, inviting him to use the key anytime he can spare the time.

There was a formal reception upstairs at the Outrigger on Cannery Row. Camera Masters' Mr. Eddie Williams, tirelessly recorded each event on film, as Mr. Bond amiably cooperated for each exposure.

My boss again apologizes for not being able to endorse a candidate for this primary. We are sure you would rather have it this way than for him to just choose names and propositions at ramdom. But he is improving now that the doctor has consented to let him take daily walks up and down the street. If any of you readers see him more than a block away from home, please send him back. He has a mind of his own, but he is out of bounds.

Seasider Is Top Cadet

Four ROTC cadets were presented the Department of the Army Syperior Cadet Award during a recent awards ceremony at University of California, Davis.

Lawrence J. Andres, Dean, College of Letters and Science, presented the awards Cadet Colonel Richard Inokuchi, a senior in the College of Letters and Science from Seaside.

Letters To The Editor

Editor: Concerned and humane individuals are surely the "cream of creation." Such fine ones untiringly try to get society to deal out more fairly from its deck of cards to all its citizens.

However there are some people who try to hang on to the coattails of them who advocate a mixture of sense and nonsense! Do they knew the difference?

Of course, the women's liberation movement has some valid and fair points to make. So have causes for minorities and other groups who suffer indignities. But when the lunatic fringe attaches itself to such worthwhile endeavors, it thrashes about in all directions and hurts the good work of more sensible folks.

Recently one such lib advocate - a woman educator - found it highly "endouraging" that more women turned to crime! She contends that this is a sign of genuine progress in a field heretofore dominated by malefactor males!

Long ago when prohibition was repealed, some lady battlers for "women's rights" whocped it up that now their sex has the liberty to booze around the bars, and careen down the street drunk, like men! What goofs! "Is that not what freedom is all about" they shrieked?

Freedom must always be coupled with responsibility! After all, we should all be trying to make a better society - not a worse one. We don't need nore dissipation in booze, dope, sex, food. We don't need more violence, crime, corruption, or filthy, crime-saturated, untruthful and cynical segments of the communication media. We surely don't need involvements in wars far from our shores, where there are no threats to our nation except in the minds of those who have the most vivid of imaginations. Where mass havoc goes on and on, horror upon horror....

The rights and fairness of a good democratic society has as its major purpose to elevate all its citizens to a nobler, more secure, happier existence.

Sincerely yours,
George Herman,

Editor: On behalf of the thousands of Girl Scouts in the Monterey Bay Girl Sout Council I would like this opportunity to thank the residents of the Seaside area for their "all out" support of our recent Coolie Sale. Your interest is an encouragement to both the adult volunteers and the girls who participate in all Scouting activities. Your response has assured that many more girls may take advantage of the special opportunities vailavle to them for their personal growth and the sharing of learned skills with others.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Charles Fuller

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

So far Mr. Nixon's visit to Russia has been a huge success on several fronts. Quite a number of years ago America was non-plussed about what to adopt as a national goal to hold our people together - to give ghem something to get really gung ho about. Certainly, we had several courses we might have chosen - providing better housing, better medical care for our elderly and our poor. Making sure that no one died of malnutrition in America might even have been a worthwhile goal. But none of these were very exciting. They just couldn't fire up anybody's imagination.

But then we found it - a really worthwhile national goal. We would show those Russians they could not beat us to the moon. We would go up there ahead of them and bring back part of the moon to prove to everyone that the moon actually was there. And we did. Thirty billion dollars went into it, and everybody was happy, except for those who had to pay taxes but didn't work in the aerospace industry to collect the benefits.

So, we got the rocks, and the Russians were duly impressed that they had got us to spend so much money, and then came the day of reckoning. The Treasury was getting low and nobody could think of a good slogan to keep a non-unpopular program from collapsing in the space industry's hour of need. But, hoorya, Mr. Nixon's trip to Russia did the trick, as if by magic, and it was done so efficiently it seems unbelievable.

The Apollo progam has been saved. We and the Russians are going to work together on it. For the next five or ten years we are diverting attention from our minor needs, such as housing and unemployment of our unskilled, in order to spend a few more billion working out the details of a Russian-American space link-up of Soyuz and Apollo craft. The decision, Oh Happy Day, came just in time, because our Presidential election is only five months away, and a lot of aerospace workers might have been picking up their dole checks on election day.

But other great things are coming out of our summit talks.

We and the Russians will both limit the number of defensive missiles and the number of sites for deploying them. It is not important that they would be useless, since the shole idea is to make it look like progress is being made.

As for offensive missiles, we are all happy to learn that both sides will be limited in number (not in size or type) so that neither we nor the Russians will have more than about ten times the number needed to destroy all life on earth. It really is not important, of course, that neither side will stick to the agreements.

But don't think for a minute I am against summit talks. I just happen to think they should be at least a little bit realisitc.

Our GRAND JURY SYSTEM originated in England in the year of 1166, over eight-hundred years ago, to "keep peace and settle disputes." England abolished their Grand Jury System in 1933 because it had ceased to be effective. In the United States some of the individual States have also dissolved their Grand Juries. However, in California this Jury system continues to be an important part of our legal system and is an impartial and efficient safeguard to County Government.

For many years the "Grand Jury" was a complete mystery to me as a layman and pherhaps many others have questions in their minds concerning the responsibilities of this part of our judicial system. Primarily the function of this body in Monterey County is to carefully watch over the operation of County Government and also to determine whether indictments should be returned in criminal matters.

My concern is directed to the first part of the functioning of this legal group. The Grand Jury is composed of housewives, businessmen and even you and I - people who have busy lives to lead and yet are called upon to serve for one year as committee members to examine thoroughly the operations of our County Government services. These persons have always done an outstanding job each year but the work continues to BECOME MORE COMPLEX. My interest is to see to it that the MONTEREY COUNTY GRAND JURY continues to be an EFFECTIVE part of our JUDICIAL SYSTEM and I firmly believe that they can only do this if we are willing to provide the members with an adequate paid staff who can spend the necessary time overseeing the affairs of our large and varied County Departments.

It is my intent to continue to ask for the NEEDED ASSISTANCE and IMPROVEMENT of our GRAND JURY SYSTEM.

Mayor Dolan Reports

Our local newspapers, including the Post News Sentinel, provide valuable public service through the "Letters To The Editor" whereby many subjects, topics, and protects are spotlighted. In the main the "Protestor" category is the perennial minority and the names are readily recognizable as repeaters in this category. This latter category in no way represents our Silent Solid Majority of Loyal Americans.

Periodically, I note that demands are made to eliminate Fort Ord and the training thereat which is so vital to our national security.

PROTEST: I protest the PROTESTORS! Whenever our President makes a necessary military decision to protect the ever declining number of U.S. Military remaining in Vietnam, our so called "students" start yelling, destroying property, and in general making a nuisance of themselves. My personal rights to travel on the freeway between Seaside and Fort Ord were denied while our "So-called Students" were protesting on State and Federal property. The news media and television eat up this kind of propaganda. Why?

Could it be the students are led or taught in our educational institutions by subversives, those who exploit the young people to further Communism of our great country? I, for one, believe, that this is the case. To those who advocate that Ford Ord be eliminated and protest the training--more specifically--the firing of weapons, I would suggest they consider some of the ramifications to the entire Monterey Peninsula if they are successful with this propoganda.

A. The disastrous financial loss of a weekly military payroll of 3 1/2 million dollars! Yes, weekly 3 1/2 million dollars are pumped into our communities. Perhaps the Protestors don't care or the Protestors are all independently wealthy. Or their financial support is being funneled to them through Cuba's Castro.

B. An additional annual 12-20 million dollars is being spent for new construction (Hayes Hospital--new classrooms at Naval Post Graduate School) and/or normal maintenance functions at all peninsula military installations. What an impact the loss of this revenue would have on our commerce and building trades?!

I know that the overwhelming silent majority of Seaside's population firmly and resolutely support our military and why we need them. I repeat! I Protest the Protestors who do not know the sentiments of our Solid Citizens and, further, I am suspicious of the Protectors' motives.

P.S. See you in church on Sunday.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

By Verlaine Crawford
Manager

This evening, Wednesday, June 7, everyone is invited to attend a Wine Tasting Party, sponsored by the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, to be held at the Rol-Seal Corporation (formerly Sir Diccount) at 2040 Fremond Blvd., Seaside.

Members, non-members, residents and non-residents are invited to get acquainted and share a few minutes in their busy lives for fun and conversation.

The King Junior High School Band of Seaside, the top band in Northern California, will provide entertainment. Slides from the "Seaside Story" will be shown to the guests. Refreshments will be served. Donation is one dollar.

Every Thursday morning at 8 a.m. the Board of the Directors of the Chamber meet at the Chamber Office at 505 Broadway, to discuss business and community involvement in Seaside. Interested individuals are most welcome to attend these informative meetings.

After reading some of the pamphlets that have arrived from the Small Business Administration, I thought I might pass on to readers a few paragraphs from "Knowing Your Image," by Roger Blackwell: " 'Image' is a commonly used term referring to the way consumers 'fell' about a store. The image of your store is what people believe to be true about it and how well those beliefs coincide with what they think it should be like.

"The image or picture which people have of your store may be accurate. Or their idea about your store may be quite different from actual conditions.

YOUR IMAGE?

"The small retailer should be concerned about his store's image because the flow of suctomer traffic depends upon it. You may have what you think is the right merchandise, at the right price, in the right style, and in the desired size, color, and quality. But it is what the customer thinks of the price, the quality, and the service that is important.

"Also important is the impression which customers have of the owner-manager. If they like him because of his personality, they are more apt to have favorable impressions of what his store offers than if they do not like him.

"If you haven't done it recently, take a look at yourself. Do you like people? Do you want to serve them? Are you concerned in helping them get value for their money?

"If your answers are 'yes', they will shine through in your dealings with people. Keep in mind that what the customer thinks decides which store receives her continued patronage."

Mr. Blackwell goes on to describe how to determine your price policy, your merchandise variety, employees, store appearance, type of clientele and advertising.

If a store owner-manager is dissatisfied with his store's image, before changing too quickly, it is wise to listen to customers and non-customers, then exchange visits with another store like yours in the community, or in a neighboring community, and offer suggestions about what might be producing defects or inconsistencies in your image. He may see them more easily than you can because he is not involved in your day-to-day operations.

Your "image" or the impression your store creates can be a factor in tis success or failure. By examining how people think in regards to your store's products, sales personnel, and advertising, you can determine the kind of impressions you want customers to have.

Naturally, the combined "images" of all the businesses help to create the image of a city. So we must all work together to put our best foot forward, so we may increase business and encourage customers to do their shopping in Seaside.

Emporium Hiring For New Store

Betsey Pearson, Personnel Manager for The Emporium Salinas is now heading up an interviewing staff for hiring at the new Northridge store.

Mrs. Pearson moved to Salinas in the spring of 1971 where her husband, Stephen is employed by the law firm of Noland, Hamerly, Etienne & Hoss.

Formerly with the Placement office at the University of San Francisco, Mrs. Pearson is a graduate of Pomona College in Claremont, California. A former American Field Service exchange student to Sweden, she is active locally as the Americans Abroad Coordinator for A.F.S. and also with the Volunteer Bureau of Salinas.

Emporium recruiters to the University of San Francisco Campus who mentioned the new store to open in Salinas led Betsey to put in an early application for her job as Personnel Manager. A TEST WAS MADE ON 2 IDENTICAL STANDING RIB ROASTS... LOOK AT THE RESULTS

GET UP TO 17% MORE MEAT for your food dollar! HERE'S HOW!

EVERYDAY LOW PRICE

The roasts were cooked at different oven temperatures. One was cooked at 275 degrees...the other at 400 degrees as recommended by many cookbooks. They were cooked to the same degree of "doneness" using a meat thermometer. THE ROAST COOKED AT 275 DEGREES HAD 17% MORE MEAT THAN THE ONE COOKED AT 400 DEGREES due to less shrinkage. There was a difference in percentage of weight loss of 17%. Try it...for a more flavorful, tender and juicy roast, cook your next one at 275 degrees using a meat thermometer to eliminate guesswork. Nothing will save you more money than cooking at a low temperature.

Tickets For Rodeo On Sale

Tickets for the 1972 California Rodeo went on sale recently at Salinas rodeo headquarters, all Macy Department Stores and at Box Offices in key cities throughout the state.

Feature attraction at this year's cowboy classic, July 20 through 23, will be Cliff Robertson, Academy award winning actor and producer-star of the rodeo oriented motion picture "J. W. Coop", now playing to capacity audiences throughout the country.

Robertson will make personal appearances at both the Saturday and Sunday performances. He is expected to arrive in Salinas Friday night, July 21, for a special "champagne showing" of the picture as one of the highlights of "Big Week" in Salinas.

Despite rising production costs and improved seating, rodeo directors are holding the line on admission prices which remain at $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50 in the main grandstand with $1.00 off for children under twelve years of age. Arena seats are $5.00, with no reduction for children.

In Monterey tickets are available at Monterey Sports Shop, 486 Alvarado Street.

Marine Enlistees To Get Bonus

A 1500 dollar bonus will be paid to qualified personnel enlisting in the Marine Corps combat arms fields during a three-month test period from June 1 through August 31.

Governor Praises Decision

Governor Ronald Ragan recently lauded as "a major victory for the taxpayers and the truly needy on welfare" a unanimous State District Court of Appeal decision enabling the state to resume checking on the outside incomes of welfare recipients--to protect the taxpayers,' money against fraud and assure that only those truly eligible for welfare actually receive it.

"This is great news, a major victory for the taxpayers and the truly needy on welfare," the governor said.

"The ability to verify the outside incomes of those receiving money provided by the taxpayers was at the very heart of our welfare reform program. Without this ability--to make sure that only those truly eligible for welfare actually receive it--the job of screening out fraud and tracking down welfare cheaters would be infinitely more difficult.

"Tragically for the taxpayers and honest recipients alike, the four-month shutdown of our earnings check system by a lower court has resulted in the loss of untold millions of dollars---taxpayers' dollars--which can never be recovered.

"Fortunately, this appellate court ruling has made it possible for us to end this immensely costly delay, and Social Welfare Director Robert Carleson informs me we are gearing up immediately to resume making our outside income checks," the governor said.

The earnings check system, a major element in Governor Reagan's welfare reform program, was a key provision in the Welfare Reform Act of 1971. ECS computers had been in operation only a month when Judge Gallagher's order was issued. The system cross-checks the Department of Social Welfare's master list of aid recipients against the Department of Human Resources Development's record of earnings reported by employers for unemployment insurance purposes.

third District Court of Appeal Presiding Justice Frank K. Richardson issued the order on behalf of the court.

Jehovah Witnesses To Meet

Lionel Reynolds, presiding minister of the Montery Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that plans have been finalized for 59 district conventions to be held in the United States. The fairgrounds at Pleasanton, California, has been selected as the assembly point for the local congregation. Tjhis year's convention will be conducted under the theme "Divine Rulership" and is scheduled for July 20-23, Reynolds said.

Reynolds told the Seaside Post News Sentinel that the acquisition of many convention sites was required due to the continual global expansion of the religious group. Other locations in California include Santa Rosa, Oakland, Bakersfield and Los Angeles.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE - Federally subsidized public employment program has allowed Seaside to employ recruits for fire department. To give them necessary practice in fire fighting, department is deliberately setting abandoned houses like this ablaze. They have started in 500 block of Palm Avenue with clearance from county air pollution board. Captain Chales King, department training officer, says blazes will not endanger surrounding houses.

If I hadn't been nagged into getting a checkup, I'd be kicking up daisies.

The toughest fight I ever had didn't happen on any big, wide screen. It happened in real life.

I was just finishing my 99th picture. My 99th ridin', jumpin', fightin' picture. Never felt better in my life.

I told the family when I'm through here, I'm going out on my boat. Sure, they said, just as soon as you've had your medical checkup. I said nonsense, I had one eight months ago. They said it was more like eighteen.

So I said okay, okay, and then the X-rays showed a spot on my lungs. It was cancer. If I'd waited a few more weeks, I'd be dead.

The first couple of months after surgery, it hurt like hell to get on my horse. Since then I've been good as new. If you caught "True Grit" or "Chisum" you've seen for yourself.

So, friend, I know what I'm talking about when I tell you get a checkup. Talk someone you like into getting a checkup. Nag someone you love into getting a checkup.

And when the lady from the American Cancer Society rings your doorbell, dig deep in your pocket. They're working to rid this world of cancer once and for all.
